

*You're about to allow complete strangers to drive away with everything you own.
Please — choose carefully!*

Mayflower is committed to quality. Our five-step quality process helps each and every Mayflower representative provide the outstanding service you expect every step of the way. From the initial estimate to the delivery of your belongings, our mission is to meet and whenever possible exceed your expectations.

You can't be too careful.

By choosing Mayflower, you're not only moving with the name you know, but you're also moving with one you can trust. For more than 80 years Mayflower has moved families across the country, with a dedicated team of agents, van operators and Home Office staff — a team that understands the importance of care for your treasured possessions. It's what you expect. It's what we deliver.

When choosing a mover for your family, keep these things in mind: Your mover should use the best people and provide the best service. Your mover should provide the right blend of services, features and technology that sets it apart in the industry. Your mover should give you peace of mind. Your mover should be Mayflower.
